advertised for departure this morning. Capt. T. is one of 'em, and will take pleasure in doing his whole duty to the traveling public. The Sallie West- " our Sal"-the pride of the Cumberland, is the boat for St. Louis to morrow. She is in fine condition, having been recently renovated throughout. Capt. Cor. bitt is in command, a gentleman of long experience in steamboating, and none more clever. At the ledger will be found our valued friend Smith, whose familiar phiz we are glad to see, and with pleasure we welcome him back to the "exploits of the briny Cumberland." We always thought Smith a gentleman of too much sense to spend his time on the "creek," by some called "Tennessee river," when his services were needed on the "old stamping ground." The coming season, should no ac cidents happen, we predict Sallie will have a career the most brilliant she has ever experienced, and "round-to with a pocket full of rocks."
